

I came in thinking/feeling _____ and I now leave thinking/feeling _____	One question that is now raised for me about our committee work is _____	General Comment: Anything you would like to share.
Grateful to return to this group. Eager to continue.
inspired and now I'm motivated Feeling excited the work was starting again.
ugh! i forgot i had this.....im glad i came	who will support this work	breakout rooms were good.
no, yes!	How do I get involved at the LVE campus?	Very pleased to see some forward progress and all the work/consideration being invested in equity planning. Thank you!
Came in: neutral and curious // Leave: hopeful
Ambiguous/inspired		Great zoom facilitation. Thx for allowing the breakouts, curious/ hopeful	How to appeal to more -- we are all different in some way or another!!	Thanks -- this is such important work and great that Miller Creek Dist is committed to this!!
stressed and now inquisitive		thanks for joining us again. We appreciate you.
Eager, renewed that this committee is meeting again and starting up this year!	How do we bring more voices to the table who represent our more marginalized families and students?	Thank you, Brian!
nervous/hopeful	when will we see the Equity policy this group drafted on the district website? Where are the policies that were globally adopted months ago	Thank you! This group is making a difference.
feeling curious, thinking deeply about the site work that needs to be done.	How it will inform the site work.
disconnected/ re-engaged	how it should integrate into the district	who should lead cultural/engagement events at sites, and could that be more of a group effort (repeating or sharing the events that become hits)
Tired and worn out, now I am feeling refreshed	How to bring our diverse community members into our school	I appreciate you and your work. I am looking forward to our next meeting. thxs drained / maybe people are here to listen to my perspective		I liked that some of the board members were here. I enjoyed talking with one of them.
positive like this wasn't specific enough to really make cultural change in our district.	How are special education students considered as we talk about equity and inclusion in our district.
I came in thinking that we have a lot of work to do at the school and district levels and I now leave feeling like there is a structure to get things accomplished. I was feeling in a rut before, and now more hopeful about the future.	how do we share (ahead of time) our great work so that we are not reinventing the wheel at each site.	thank you for taking the time to have this committee do its work.

How to start the site committee and what we might be responsible for but am now feeling like this is going to be collaborative effort across all schools.	How to open the discussion at the first meeting and perhaps the best way to pull together a parent and staff team. I look forward to working with my colleagues to share practices...	I appreciate your leadership nad I think this provides all of us the framework for getting started at school sites. Looking forward to digging into the Jam Board to gather the thoughts of others as to what the site level work might look like,. At LVE we have very excited and energetic folks with creative ideas. Loved the breakout session!
I came in and didn't know anything about this group. I now have more understandingand look forward to contributing in anyway that I can. I'm hopeful that we will see positive changes. Thanks so much!
I came in feeling anxious bc I was late and I am now feeling like there are more people who want to create a more inclusive community	One question that is raised for me is "Was there a Spanish translation available?"	Thanks for providing this forum!
